It's Premier Sifted Now.

As the Review was going to press a message was received that Premier Rutherford had resigned and is succeeded by Hon. A. L. Sifton. The legislature was prorogued and will likely meet in September. The new cabinet is not announced yet but will probably include Judge Mitchell and Dr. Warlock. It is said that John Stocks may be taken in later on. The new premier will likely contest Macleod.

The Memorial Services.

The memorial services in Clareholm on Friday last were well attended and of a most impressive nature. At the Methodist church at 11 o'clock there was a large and representative gathering and the eulogies were not only eloquent but well worded tributes to the late king. Rev. A. Argue presided, and addresses were given by Mayor Frost, representing the town, and Mr. H. W. Brownlee, representing the school. Mr. Frost dwelt on the king in his representative capacity and how loyal he was to responsible government. He urged continued loyalty to these institutions which are a surety of the largest possible measure of political freedom. Mr. Brownlee delivered a very able and eloquent eulogy of the Vancouver, reviewing some of the more notable events of his career which served to bring into prominence the characteristics which have won for him a permanent place on the roll of fame. Mr. Argue also spoke briefly and alluded his tribute of praise of the ruler who succeeded a monarch who had so completely won the affection of her people that it seemed impossible that another could fill so large a place. Edward had, however, by a fidelity to the high ideals of his maker, and a conviction of the great example set, impressed the world with his astuteness as a statesman and diplomat.

The music was rendered by the Methodist and Presbyterian choirs with Mr. W. G. M. flutist as accompanist.

At St. John's church, at 1 o'clock there was a fairly good attendance and the beautiful service of the Anglican church seemed doubly impressive. Rev. Mr. Stamer officiated and the eulogy, though brief, was well worded tributes to the departed monarch and expression of the nation's grief. The services in the Anglican church, throughout the diocese were held at 1 o'clock.

"Don't forget the hospital." It has a real demand on you.

You may be the next to be sick and need a hospital and expert attention. Help provide for the need while you are well.

What's the use of saying you are not interested in the hospital. Time may convince you to the contrary.

Remember that a dollar invested in a hospital will tell for the relief of those who are ill. To relieve distress and heal the sick was the daily work of the greatest of all the great ones of earth.

If everyone does as they are expected, there will be no trouble in raising four thousand dollars for a hospital.

There are men around here who could give a thousand dollars and never miss it. What's the good of waiting until you die to do something for the good of the world. Act while you live and have the pleasure of seeing the good done.

Farmers you have a very vital interest in the hospital. It will be for you quite as much as for the people of Clareholm. The Review believes the farmers will set the pace in giving generously.

In this weeks Review there is a subscription blank, fill it in and mail it to the Bank of Commerce. You will never be sorry.

Wednesday Half Holiday.

*The council has passed a by-law making Wednesday afternoon from one to six o'clock a civic half holiday during the months of June, July and the first two weeks in August. This makes ten weeks in all. It was thought desirable to terminate the holiday in the second week of August so as not to inconvenience farmers during the harvest. The move is a wise one. The business men were nearly unanimous in demanding it and the Review feels sure there will be no loss to anyone as a consequence. It is hoped that the farming community surrounding will time their shopping so as not to clash with the holiday. The stores will only be closed five hours during the week and there is no farmer who cannot do his business so as to co-operate in making the holiday a pleasure and benefit to all. The Clareholm merchants will use the farmers better as a result of the holiday. It will do them all untold good. Now let the farmers remember that on Wednesdays from one to six o'clock for ten weeks, commencing June 1st the stores in Clareholm will be closed. If there is a baseball match, or other sport, in progress the farmers should come in and enjoy the fun. It will help out the season in fine shape and they will tackle the every day problems all the better as the result of a little wholesome recreation. Don't forget it, farmers. Wednesday half holiday in Clareholm for ten weeks commencing June 1st.

The Civic Bye-Election.

Owing to the voting taking place on a holiday there wasn't much interest shown in the civic bye-election on Friday last.

The by-law to raise $15,000 to complete the water works was carried by a vote of 11 to 6, against.

The vote for the election of a councillor to succeed the late James Clark resulted in the election of Mr. T. C. Milnes over K. F. Ferguson by a vote of 20 to 17.

For the vacancy on the school board caused by the resignation of Mr. E. J. Camies the vote was W. G. Righy 31 A. Hutton 15.

Both the elected men are among the best substantial and successful business men. Mr. Milnes is one of the best known men in the province and will bring to the council board an extensive business experience which should prove of benefit to the town. Mr. Ferguson did well and should have no trouble in being elected next December. Mr. Righy is a University graduate and a teacher of experience. Education should have in him a warm friend. Mr. Hutton has many friends who doubtless will see to it that his opportunity comes later on. None of the candidates canvassed a vote. It was left to the people to say who they wanted without the slightest attempt being made to influence their franchise.

Mr. McKenzie's Attitude

Speaking to a representative of the Review in Macleod, Mr. Malcolm McKenzie, M. P. for Vancouver said he is strongly in favor of contesting the charter of the A. & G. W. Co. and putting the lid on the seven millions very tight. He doesn't know whether the time is ripe for building a road north or not. Mr. McKenzie is opposed to Mr. Rutherford continuing as premier and favors Mr. Sifton for the position. He is no opponent to Mr. Cushing in any respect other than he does not think he is the man for premier in the present situation. Mr. McKenzie never favored the railway deal but voted in favor of a situation that would permit of an out-ider being called to the premiership. He takes emphatic grounds in opposition to Rutherford and it is hardly to be expected that he will give any further vote to retain that gentleman in power.

Clareholm Review.

ESTABLISHED 1904.

T. W. QUAYLE, Editor.

APOLOGISE MR. HERRON

Several newspapers in this riding have been publishing denials of certain remarks attributed to Mr. John Herron M. P. in which he was stated to have charged that the government pampers settlers from the United States and discriminates against Britishers and Canadians. The Nanton News refuses to publish the denial because it didn't publish the article complained of. The Review hasn't been asked to publish the denial although this paper was one of the offenders in publishing the offending statement of Mr. Herron. The Review made no charge against Mr. Herron. We merely published the speech in full as it appeared in Hansard. The gist of the denial is that Mr. Herron did not say the things attributed to him, that he merely read what a government official is alleged to have said in an interview with a Chicago paper. That is true so far as it goes but we feel sure Mr. Herron gives his constituents the credit of being intelligent and there was no other conclusion to come to than that he assumed the attitude that the statements in the interview were true and ensured the government, by implication, for nursing the foreign immigrant. True there were a number of "ifs" in the speech but the Review is not going to let its column to insult a genial dealer while the following remarks of Mr. Herron appear on the pages of Hansard. After reading the interview in the Chicago paper, which was probably a fake, Mr. Herron said:

"And if it is true, then I think it is very strange that foreign immigrants coming into this country should be treated in this manner. I do not see why an immigrant coming to this country should be treated in this way, nursed and protected as stated here, any more than a Canadian citizen or a man who would leave the eastern part of Canada, and go to one of the western provinces."

We simply ask Mr. Herron. Why did he make this remark if he did not intend to leave an impression in the minds of people of British origin that they were being discriminated against and that Americans were being favored. Why, Mr. Herron? Why? That Mr. Herron remarks were interpreted by his fellow opposition members as they have been by the Review was evidenced by the speech of Mr. J. A. Currie of Simcoe who followed in a most insulting attack on Hon. Mr. Oliver and who linked the Americans with Donkeys. Claims etc. The whole incident was a cheap attempt at creating prejudice against the government in Eastern Canada and Mr. Herron, by his speech, thought his good natured constituents would be too busy growing wheat to ever read the remarks. Come on with an apology Mr. Herron. The denial will not do.

AUTO DRIVE IN ROCKIES

The British Columbia government is quietly carrying on a public work which gives promise of being a magnet to attract tourist traffic to that province. Under the minister of public works an automobile road is being constructed through the mountains and the best scenic portions of the province, which will when completed reach Vancouver. It is being made sixty feet in width and of solid masonry, winding around mountain sides so as to make easy grades. The government has hopes of the co-operation of the states immediately to the south and in a year or two automobile trips through British Columbia should be popular. With stopping places at convenient distances in the mountains and the gorgeous scenery unrivalled in the world, the Pacific province certainly offers attractions to the tourist of an exceptional character. All that keeps the tourist out at present is the lack of access to the beauty spots. The energetic minister of public works in the McBride cabinet is doing a generous stunt at overcoming that obstacle and the Review will be written down a level with the Valley comet prophets if within three years the hunk of the automobile is not heard in the very heart of the Rockies.

MEADOW CREEK NOTES.

Several of our folks were out to the moving picture show at Bluxburg on the 11th. The pictures were very good, especially some vivid ones descriptive of the horrible scenes during the recent Mexican earthquake.

The Alberta Rangers are going to have a few hours' practice each Saturday for a week or two in preparation for the annual camp at Calgary.

Mr. R. J. Bissett, who got a nasty smash in the head from a broncho, is getting along favorably.

We learn that Mr. Bailey has effected the sale of his half section preparatory to striking out for B. C.

L. E. Maxwell's steam outfit is plowing round neighbor.

The initial board meeting of the Methodist church on Meadow Creek was held on Monday, May 16, at 8 o'clock, P. M., presiding. The mission was put upon a business basis and a very profitable time spent in discussing the various problems that are to be found in a new field. At the conclusion of the meeting the board were entertained by Mrs. Maxwell.

We met a fisherman the other day who said he had fished a long time and caught—nothing. Patient dogging well.

Owing to a series of light showers the attendance at church on Sunday was small. The missionary preached upon stinging death.

Wheat is on the sprout all over and the Hills will give a very good account of themselves next fall.

John Bowie has sold his homestead to Mr. Moulder of C. S. A. We heard the price was $200 an acre. Things are moving our way.

Look out for our musicale Sunday. Names of singers, etc., shortly.

WOMEN'S BEAUTY

It Can Never Be Perfect Without Luxuriant Hair

A head of luxuriant hair is sure to be attractive. But nature has not crowned every woman with glorious hair. Some very lovable women have treated rather scantily in this respect.

For instance, there are tens of thousands of women in Canada to-day, who have harsh, faded and listless hair, who are unattractive simply because they do not know that nowadays even the whims of nature can be overruled by the genius of science.

If you are a woman without beautiful hair, do not permit your attractions to be hidden because of this slight misfortune.

Go today to Renie's and buy a large tin of the Parisian Sage for 50 cents, use it each night, and you will notice the fresh, repulsive hair disappear, and in its place will come soft, silky, bright and luxuriant hair.

Parisian Sage is guaranteed by O. L. Renie to cure dandruff, itching of the scalp, and stop falling hair in two weeks, or money back.

Our Mid-Summer Weather

The weather for the past two weeks has been like mid-summer most of the time. The highest point was 71 and the lowest 44 on the 16th, the precipitation up to the 22nd was 1.18 inches. While vegetation is making excellent progress more rain would be welcomed.

Fred Fuller who is said to hail from Blooming Prairie, Minn., and Hancock the same state, was before Mr. Canine on the 19th charged with assaulting his wife. The court gave him a severe lecture assuring him that Canada is a poor country for wife beaters. Hitting women is not tolerated in this state. He was bound over to keep the peace for a year in $200 and any violation of the obligation will result in a sentence to Macleod for the limit that the law allows. It is understood that Fuller and his wife have separated.

BORN

Harris—On Sunday May 22nd to Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Harris a daughter. Pyle on May 29th to Mr. and Mrs. H. Pole a son.

Vista—On May 23 to Mr. and Mrs. H. Vista a daughter.

Empire day was celebrated at the School by an entertainment in which the children gave a program of choruses, flag drills and recitations all of a patriotic nature. Addresses appropriate to the day were given by Mayor Frost and Mr. W. A. Cornwall. Mr. C. J. Brown, chairman of the School Board presided. Those who recited were Amy Henry, Dahl Caldwell, William McKinney, Hazel Spencer, Carl Scott, Percy Cline and Lulu Henry. In the morning the teachers emphasized the greatness of the British empire and gave the pupils instruction designed to increase their knowledge of the national resources and power.

The council at the last meeting had the pleasure of listening to the reading of an extensively signed petition asking for the removal of the post office from its present location. How it ever came to be located in the centre of the town is left for history to reveal but it certainly is a menace. That the council appreciated the sentiment of the petition was evidenced by the alacrity with which it was decided to fumigate the building and remove it, and if the health officer says it must be fumigated there will be a bonfire. The property owners are greatly pleased at the prompt action of the council.

The accounts passed were:

Fire Chief Edwards submitted an estimate for apparatus, etc., needed now, totaling about $200 and after some discussion about the cost of a cart for hose to cost $125 the decision was reached to buy the supplies and provide for by debenture. The supplies will tell for the efficiency of the fire fighting forces and the reduction of insurance.

Under local improvements it was reported that 500 feet of lumber had been bought for the replacing and rebuilding of crossings.

In a discussion of the water service there was a suggestion that there was dissatisfaction expressed over the purchase of a team some time ago. Councillor Yanhorn said if the town wanted to do so he would take the team back at the figure paid, $550, and would be glad to do so. No reply was made to this offer. There was great pleasure expressed at the report of Mr. Perry on the 4th of the pipes running through the town which have been down for some time. There was only one leak in the whole system and it was easily repaired, just as near the barns. There is a big hope that the pipes will stand the pressure test for fire purposes. That will be made as soon as the tank is well tested and taken off the contractor's hands. The water in the creek was used in the delivery service this week and is O. K. House keepers will likely find it a little harder than the well water but as one councillor aptly remarked, it will stimulate the demand for boxes. It looks now as if the water service is going to be a big success right from the start.

Praises the Arrow Lakes

Mr. A. F. Johnston of the Bowman lumber co. who was in town recently is an enthusiastic B. C. man and thinks that province has it on all the others in almost every respect. Speaking to the Review in reference to fruit lands he praised all the districts. He regards the climate as more equable and he looks to the Arrow Lakes to furnish the finest fruits of the future. He has no investment there having bought in the Creston area but states that while that district is splendid he has a large faith in the Arrow Lakes. Mr. Johnston says British Columbia will have no trouble in reaching the status of California as a fruit growing country and that in a very few years.

Governments Adopt Oil as Fuel

Vancouver, B. C. May 23—For many years past it has been a wonder to producers of crude petroleum that the British and U. S. Governments did not adopt liquid fuel for their navies, but probably the principal reason has been the fact that heretofore it was almost impossible to be assured a sufficient supply under any and all circumstances. This difficulty is fast being overcome, the result being as above stated. It is difficult to enumerate them all. First of all, from a naval standpoint, is efficiency.

Coalinga, California Oil Field

The Greatest in the World.

Capitalists from London, New York and Pittsburg thronging the District.

COALINGA, the biggest and most continuous producing oil field in the world, not excepting Bakou, Russia, is to-day livelier than at any time in its history.

Capitalists from New York, Pittsburg and London, and other metropolitan centres, as well as from all parts of the world, are thronging the district. The demand for land leases and options is greater than ever before. Foreign experts visiting the field pronounce Coalinga as probably the greatest proven territories of its area in the world. Altho Coalinga has been known as a gusher field, its wells have established the greatest record as constant and steady producers. On a clear day one may look along the foothills, and for a distance of 30 to 40 miles, see a constantly widening procession of derricks.

The Oil Industry more attractive than gold mining.

Senator Nixon, who made his millions in the Nevada gold fields, is no longer a familiar sight on the streets of Sage Brush Mining Camps, but is giving his time and attention to investing his money heavily in the California oil fields.

George Wingfield, of Goldfields fame, is now one of the staunchest supporters of the oil industry, and is considered one of the most heavily interested operators in the Coalinga field.

Clarence Berry, the successful Alaska gold mining man, has extensive holdings in the California oil fields. Berry, upon his return from Alaska, became interested in the oil industry, and has since then he has made millions upon his original investment.

U. M. Thomas, the mining and newspaper man, likewise made a fortune by selling land on Section 64 at Coalinga. He purchased at $100 an acre last spring and sold the remainder of his holdings consisting of 60 acres, to the Laclede Oil Co., for $1200 per acre.

Oil is California's greatest product, and California leads the world in the production of oil.

In the brief space of 12 years, the busy, struggling industry has become a giant.

Oil, the new king, to-day outranks gold to one, and in value exceeds the fruit output by one-third. It moves 40 per cent of the wheels west of the Mississippi, and lubricates 90 per cent of them.

Oil is the cheapest fuel the world has ever known. California oil is stretching towards the mining camps of Arizona, Northern Mexico and Nevada.

In the 700 miles from Fullerton on the south to Coalinga on the north, hundreds of thousands of dollars are being invested, and millions of dollars are being returned every month to those of small means, who are interested in the fields.

We make the statement without fear of successful contradiction, that California oil offers the greatest money making opportunities of the generation.

Stop and realize that millions are being made from the production and marketing of this product.

There is not a stock quoted on the San Francisco Stock and Oil Exchange that was not considered highly speculative at some period of its history and all these stocks were sold at low figures to start with. To-day three-fourths of the stocks listed are paying dividends.

No other exchange, no other list of stocks on earth can point to such a record.

Glance at the list of directors and officers of the Coalinga-Eureka Oil Company, given fully in a recent issue of this publication. Are they reliable? Are they successful? Are they business men? Yes, they are all men of sterling character and integrity, men who have proven their ability in business affairs, their record will stand investigation.

Remember that there are TWO things that are of vital importance to an investment—men and territory. We have absolutely proven territory and the men back of the organization are honest and good managers.

One of our stockholders who has just returned from California and in the trip visited the Coalinga-Oil fields, and particularly the property of the Coalinga-Eureka Oil Company, stated while in our office yesterday:

"I am astonished at what I saw in your wonderful oil fields and never imagined the oil industry to be what it is. Your property is particularly well located, and I congratulate myself on having joined you in its development."

This party, prior to his visit to California, had purchased 2,000 shares of the Coalinga-Eureka stock. The day of his return he increased his holdings to 7000 shares

In conclusion we wish to state:

Don't permit other men and women to do your thinking—think for yourself. If, in your judgment, an opportunity has all the earmarks of being a good one, grasp it quickly—don't hesitate.

During the summer months of last year the investing public was offered Silver Tip stock for a few cents per share. The great majority of those who had been offered this stock at ground floor prices, those who think and act and reason for themselves, and have confidence in their judgment, bought.

Some hesitated up to the afternoon of September 29, next day the Silver Tip became a gusher, and the stock offered less than 10 hours previous, for a few cents per share; jumped to $8.00.

There is every probability that a similar condition of affairs will exist at the property of the Coalinga-Eureka Oil Company, Inc., when the drills are down to the oil level.

Information from the fields and developments on our property, warrant the directors to advance the price of shares in this company to 35 cents per share, on Saturday evening, 10 o'clock, May 28th.

This means that it will be impossible to buy a share at 25 cents after Saturday, May 28th.

If you have not time to get a letter to our Vancouver office before Saturday evening, May 28th, at night down, and at our expense wire your reservation, specifying the number of shares you wish held in your name. On receipt of your wire we will set aside the stock requested, giving you plenty of time to send remittance by first mail. Don't delay—the stock you buy before the 28th, at 25 cents will be worth 10 cents more per share on Monday morning, May 29th, because the then current price per share of the stock of this Company will be 35 cents.

Conditions are such as to warrant further advance in price in a few days' time.

An Old Timers Story

We assisted the survivors of the party to bury the mangled remains of their friends and relatives. Charley and I started from Ft Dodge, while the party followed us on horse back. We met Mr. Beals a mile or two out from town, and we related to him a part of our experience for the last few days. It had taken a little less than three days to ride the two hundred miles. We sold our horses, we had captured from the Indians, for $210 thirteen in all, five had belonged to our neighboring ranches on the Canadian river. And to-day South-eastern Alberta our thirteen horses would bring $1200 or $1500. We divided the money, $105 each. I decided to send $5 and I deposited the remaining $100 away down in the uttermost depths of my overalls, for safe keeping. Charley went in search of a Spanish Monte game, of which he was a friend. In less than an hour he came to me to borrow money, he having lost all of his own I gave him thirty dollars which he soon lost. We then started in to spend the rest of it. When I woke in the morning I hadn't enough money to pay my fine. I did not see the other man, but if he was hurt any worse than I was he was in the hospital, or the morgue. We started back on another trail to look for the lost herd. We found them the second day out, the cattle having stampeded, and they had lost most of the herd. We rode for two days and I started for the R.R. with the cattle we had gathered. I arrived there the fifth day and when I had loaded the cattle on the car, I started back to join the other party. By this time they had gathered most of the lost cattle and were on their way to the R.R. When we had loaded them we pulled for the ranch on the Canadian river. At noon the third day, while in camp on Cottonwood creek, about twenty-five Indians were in sight, intending no doubt to camp at the same place. We got our horses on the opposite side of camp from the Indians. There were nine of us, all well armed, they fired a volley at us and we promptly returned the fire. We started back on another trail, as usual about 5 o'clock when they came out on the open west of us. Two of their number came out to negotiate a parley. We rode over to them a little more than half way and Charley and Miller met them, they wanted us to come out on the open and fight them, this was refused to do, they, having about three men to our one. When the council was at an end, the young chief called us cowards and squaws. Charley proposed to fight him single-handed, they were to use any kind of weapons they might choose. They were to start on horse back 200 yards apart and shoot when they chose. The signal being given they started for each other on the run. When they were within 100 yards of each other, the brave fired and missed, at about 75 yards Charley fired and there was one more good Indian. They recovered him under a flag of truce, the horse came to our camp and was captured. They signified their desire for another trial. We met him for a champion and John Carlson fell the victim. Now John was just about as handy with a shooting iron as a bear with its paw. However he faced the music; they both started at the given signal and when within about a 100 yards of each other they both fired without effect. They both came at full speed and collided. The head of one collision was too much for the Indian's pony, it was almost knocked off its feet. John was quick to take advantage of the fact he seized his antagonist by the raven locks and cut his throat from ear to ear. He brought the Indian's pony in to our camp and in a short time another horse appeared on the field for battle. We again cast lots and it fell to my lot to vanquish the anxious foe. Now to a bright idea penetrating my substitute this was the duplicate the immortal Grover Cleveland, by hiring a substitute this. The other boys would not stand for it. At last with much fear and trembling they started me to mount. I was afraid old Diablo (my horse) would be killed. They raised a whoop of derision at my tardiness, which did not tend to raise my courage. At last I sallied forth. Now my antagonist intended to benefit by the predecessor and would do a little hair pulling himself. But alas! Man is born to disappointment. We charged and made a grab for my hair but only got my hat, my head being as bare as a billiard ball. I cut his left arm almost off. He made a pass at me with his knife and cut my thigh slightly, but was unable to manage the horse and use his weapon at the same time. When we were separated, I drew my pistol and shot him. He stayed on his horse until near his comrades, when he fell to the ground. They now seemed satisfied, they were probably afraid I would kill all of them. They started north, but when they were past us, they turned east, probably to join the main band for reinforcement, to capture what they considered a valuable prize. We traveled late that night and slept late that usual the next morning. As we were about to break camp, 80 or 100 Indians, came down the valley of which we were camped at the edge of, in a grove of Cottonwood trees. We decided to remain quiet until discovered. We harassed our team, hooked them to the mess wagon and with Ben, our colored cook, I sent were ready to go some, when the Indians were opposite us. They killed some cattle and prepared for a feast. They discovered us and came for us. Ben started with the wagon on the run, we followed behind. They were gaining on us when we stopped and fired a volley at them which checked them for a moment only. We overtook the wagon, told Ben to cut loose one of the horses from the wagon, mount him and we would stay with him, he replied "I will stay with this wagon till I die". We gave him another chance and received the same reply Charley said "then die you—d— fool". We bade him good bye and left him to his foolish fate. The Indians, however, passed him dismounted, killed one of the horses and Ben, cut the harness into small pieces, robbed the wagon and went on their way.
